Pointwise UGM Call For Papers Reminder - Abstract Deadline 31 January 2010

Abstracts of presentations for Pointwise's User Group Meeting must be submitted by 31 January. Now is the time to show others what you have been doing.

The UGM, which will be 13-14 April 2010 in Fort Worth, TX, will feature presentations by top engineers of their projects using Pointwise or Gridgen.

Past papers have included meshing research papers, unique applications of Gridgen and Pointwise and advanced scripting usage to automate Gridgen and Pointwise. We especially are looking forward this year to presentations demonstrating our new product, Pointwise.

Details:

- Subject matter: CFD or similar computational work for which Gridgen or Pointwise was used for meshing
- Presentation length: 20 minutes plus a brief question and answer period
- Deadline: Abstracts of 500 words or less are due 31 January 2010.
- Send to: ugm@pointwise.com
- Format: plain text, Microsoft Word or PDF
- Include: contact information
- No formal written paper is required.
- Additional: An advanced copy of your presentation is requested for inclusion in meeting materials.
