Pointwise Is Hiring

Apply Today!

We are currently seeking candidates for two future positions. First, a more experienced candidate is sought for our Applied Research Team to implement advanced meshing algorithms and create new research ideas and proposals. Second, we're seeking someone for our Product Development Team to implement new features in our Pointwise product.

For more details, see www.pointwise.com/jobs.

Know someone looking for a job? Refer the candidates to our open positions. If they are hired, we will give you a $500 referral fee! Just have the candidates mention your name when they initially inquire about the positions.

Pointwise Tricks and Tips

Pointwise now has an MRU, or most recently used, list of files in the File menu. You can easily and quickly click an entry in this list to import a file or open a project again. Corresponding icons are shown with the files in the list indicating which type of import was originally used for each.

Happy Meshing!!
